

For Instant Use

As a reliable remedy in cases of Croup, Whooping Cough, or sudden Colds, and for the prompt relief and cure of throat and lung diseases, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is available. Mrs. E. E. Kigerly, Council Bluffs, Iowa, writes: "I consider Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a most important remedy for home use. I have tested its curative power, in my family, many times during the past thirty years, and have never known it to fail. It will relieve the most serious affections of the throat and lungs, whether in children or adults." John H. Stoddard, Burg, Va., writes: "I have never found a medicine equal to

for the prompt relief of throat and lung diseases peculiar to children. I consider it an absolute cure for all such affections, and am never without it in the house." Mrs. L. E. Herman, 187 Mercer st., Jersey City, writes: "I have always found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral useful in my family." H. T. Johnson, Mt. Savage, Md., writes: "For the speedy cure of sudden Colds, and for the relief of children afflicted with Croup, I have never found anything equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is the most potent of all the remedies I have ever used." W. H. Sickler, Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cured my wife of a severe lung affection, supposed to be Quick Consumption. We now regard the Pectoral as a household necessity." E. M. Breckenridge, Brainerd, Minn., writes: "I am subject to Bronchitis, and, wherever I go, am always sure to have a bottle of

Robert Bonner's "stables."

Such is the general interest in Robert Bonner's stable since he purchased Maud C. that he is obliged to issue cards of admission to his stables. The first horse of note whose stall is reached is a center. His temper is not so good as it used to be. Stranger are not received by him with favor. His purchase price was $35,000. Next comes ticket, a $10,000 bay gelding. He has a record of 2:18, and has made a mile in 1 on a private track. Larus is a brown gelding. He was bought from Mr. Ankling. He has a companion in his stall who is none other than Jimmy a little bright-eyed "couch ferrier." Larus is disposed to be cross to strange horses. Larus takes exercise every day rain or shine. Jimmy enjoys the exercise on Larus' back. They are fast friends. Larus sold for $30,000. The bay gelding Forest has made a mile in 1 with an unsound showing of 2:11. He is rather a heavy feeder and generally wears a muzzle while in his stall to prevent gluttony.

Mr. Bonner calls Maud S. a "cosset," "cosset" means a house lamb, which is petted by the family of her owner. She is of a very docile disposition, and knows she cost $10,000, but is nevertheless friendly with every one. It takes a day of oats with a little bran at night, have put the mare in good flesh. She is what is termed road condition, not trained down nearly so fine as she was last spring and summer. Mr. Bonner drives her out every day, save when it rains. On rainy days she takes a walk of an hour in the morning and afternoon in the stable. She is not hitched with a halter, her stall being about fifteen feet square, but is allowed to move about freely.

A Peculiar Business Partnership.

"Three up—draw one," squeaked the shrimplish little waiter. The first cake was just showing its shape on the griddle when a cent check dropped beside the plate of the new comer. "I thought this was rapid checking, but noticing that the same man who'd ordered the cardboard took the cash, he said:

"It must be a great temptation to a man who handles both the checks and the money?"

"No, I'm one of the proprietors."

"And you don't cheat your partner?"

"No."

"How does he know that?" asked the persistent guest.

"I'm on in daylight this week and I'm on at night."

"I see," said the inquisitive gentleman, "go on."

"He turns in just as much money to the firm his week in daylight as I do when I'm on, and I turn in just as much at night as he does."

"To see that he pays it is my business. To make it is his business. You see, neither of us can write. We keep no books, and save the salary of a man who could cheat us both. Sometimes we make three times as much as we pay in, but that is our dividend. He makes as much over the sum as he can, and so do I. It makes us each have an interest in the business, and there is no incentive to dishonesty."

"Have you an article of agreement?"

"No, we don't need any. Our business has grown to be prosperous. I don't know how much my partner has made, nor does he know more about my affairs. We are both satisfied."

Be Warned

In time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, removing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Wehl, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only the disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health. John McLellan, cor. Bridge and Third sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "For several years I suffered from Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaint, the latter being so severe at times that I could scarcely attend to my work. My appetite was poor, and I was much emaciated; but by using my appetite and digestion improved, and my health has been perfectly restored."
